

Tech Info Library

Applesoft: VTAB notes

Revised: 11/7/84
Security: Everyone

Applesoft: VTAB notes

=====

VTAB statements move the cursor to a specific vertical position ignoring the current text window. A VTAB to a line above the text window starts writing as if the window were the whole screen until it scrolls into the window where it stays. This prevents the information above the window from scrolling. A VTAB below the window causes writing only on the line where the cursor is located, allowing normal scrolling within the window from carriage returns.

Apple Tech Notes

Tech Info Library Article Number:67