Apple IIGS: SuperCalc 3a Memory Use

```
Revised:        5/25/89
Security:       Everyone
```

Apple IIGS: SuperCalc 3a Memory Use

==

Because SuperCalc 3a does not take advantage of the 24-bit addressing capabilities of the Apple IIGS, it can access only the first 128K of RAM
(by using the same bank-switching techniques used in the Apple IIe and Apple IIc.)

Tech Info Library Article Number:2365